Best Coctails In this City

This morning on opening our country orders we were greatly pleased to receive the following from a gentleman in Bahia Blanca.

Gentleman.

I fully believe the advice given in your advertisment has saved my life. Yesterday I took a long drive in the camp. The morning was fine, but in the evening a terrible cold South wind came up and began to chill me to the bone. Last spring I was ill with pneumonia and my lungs have since been delicate; what could I do without wraps and only thin clothing on. All at once the idea occured to me that the suggestion in your advertisment might be put into practice, so I called at a rancho and asked for an old newspaper, folded it up, laid it across my chest, buttoned my coat and drove off triumphantly; but I may assure you, that next time I am in town I will call upon you and lay in a good stock of underclothing and also try a few of your celebrated Pyjama suits.

This is very gratifying and shows us that our endeavours to serve the public are appreciated, and that our motto 'the Best is Cheapest', is in the end the most satisfactory for all concerned.

We take the opportunity to thank our patrons for their past favours, and hope that our present pleasant relations may continue.

NOTICE—The partnership between Samuel Boote and George L. Van Gorder was dissolved on the 29th of last month, and the said Van Gorder ceased to have any connection with the above business from that date.
Samuel Boote, in taking over the sole management, is glad of the opportunity to heartily thank the public for their liberal support during the last five years, and now, by making several changes in the studio, and additions to the steff of assistants, hopes to shew a decided improvement in the class of work turned out.
The new specimens will be on view in the course of a few days, when the public are respectfully invited to call and judge for themselves.
First-class work at fair prices, and every attention to customers, is now order at Cadiz 11th.—There was a serious riot yesterday here at the close of the trial of the Anarchists charged with complicity in the recent attacks on the city of Xeres. The court martial acquitted them, to the great surprise of the public, and ordered them all to be set free. The news spread rapidly and attracted to the court-house a large number of Anarchists, to welcome their fellows on their release, which they did with a noisy demonstration. The prisoners had hardly been released when they were again arrested, and marched towards the jail escorted by Civil Guards.

This exasperated the other Anarchists, who tried to rescue them, and attacked the Guards with fury, a bloody fight ensuing. Several Guards and ten Anarchists were seriously wounded. Thirty persons were arrested. There is great excitement in the city.

Paris 11th.—The Chamber of Deputies has passed the Bill allowing women to vote at elections.

Berlin 11th.—Emperor William is confined to bed with a bad cold, and some uneasiness prevails as to his condition.

London, 11th—The Government is much hampered by the slowness with which Parliament is dealing with the many Bills before it, and is taking steps to push them through. The House of Commons has voted a credit for the railway to Mombassa, in Zanzibar.

Paris, 11th—The Chamber has declared the 22nd of September, the centenary of the First Republic, a holiday.

Madrid 11th.—The Senate has approved the Commercial Treaty with the United States. Telegraphic and railway communication, interrupted by the recent storms, has been re-established.

London, 11th—Advices from Central Africa confirm the news of the arrival of the Hick expedition at Lake Taganyka. There is a rumor that the natives routed the British troops on the East Coast of Africa.

Moscow, 11th—To judge by the preparations already made for this year's military manœuvres they will assume gigantic proportions. There is great activity in Russian military circles.

Sydney, 11th—Advices from Samoa state that meetings have been held on all the islands to demand the reform of the Berlin Treaty of 1889; appeals will be sent to the governments of Germany, Great Britain and the United States.

Paris, 11th—The Chambers have sanctioned the bill creating a Colonial Office in the Cabinet

MATTO GROSSO GOLD EXPLORATION.

It is our painful duty to record the unfortunate issue of another English enterprise in this part of the world, two of the sufferers having called upon us to lay before our readers here and in Europe the story of their wrongs.

Early in the year 1891 a gentleman named Ward, for some time resident in Matto Grosso, went to London and succeeded in forming a syndicate under the above title. Two members of Parliament named Sir Fred. Milner and Mr. Beckett took a lively interest in the enterprise and, accompanied by three other gentlemen named John Walker, Frederic O'Driscoll (engineer) and Claude Vautin (mining expert) took passage for Buenos Ayres. The two members of Parliament above-mentioned gave out in London that their trip to Buenos Ayres was merely to recover their health, shattered by labors in the service of their country.

Their stay in Buenos Ayres was very brief, and they at once hastened to Paraguay, with the apparent intention of going on to Matto Grosso, but the heat was so great that they allowed their companions, Walker, Vautin and O'Driscoll, to proceed without them to Cuyaba.

Before the departure of the 3 gentlemen a grand dinner was given at Asuncion, at which Consul Stuart, Sir. F. Milner, Messrs. Beckett, Whitehorn, Featherstone, Vautin, O'Driscoll and Holden were present, and speeches were made for the success of the expedition, the commander of which was the well known Pilcomayo explorer, Mr. Olaf Storm.

Messrs. O'Driscoll, Vautin and Walker with 2 English miners proceeded, as the vanguard of the expedition, in the steamer Ladario to Corumbá, with Mr. Whitehorn (agent of Mr. Ward, the founder of the Company). They were followed in a few days by Mr. Olaf Storm; and the rest of the expedition left Asuncion in the steamer Explorer on July 25th, reaching Corumbá on August 16th.

One part of the expedition went up to Cuyabá in the ordinary passenger steamer; the rest remaining with the "Explorer" as she carried the British flag, no foreign vessel being allowed any higher than Corumbá. After an interval of 18 days letters arrived from Mr. Storm, conveying the President's permission for the "Explorer" to go up the Alto Paraguay river.

By this time Vantin, Ward, O'Driscoll and Walker had returned from Cuyabá and proceeded at once down river to Paraguay, since which time none of them have been seen. Ward is supposed to be in Rio Janeiro, and the others sailed for England.

As soon as Mr. Storm's letters were received the Explorer with a dozen persons ascended the Alto Paraguay to Villa Maria and then went on to Barra dos Bugres, a distance of 750 miles from Corumbá: Mr. Holden being in command.

In the meantime Dr. Evans, geologist, and Mr. Spencer Moore, botanist, arrived from England at Cuyabá, where they met Mr. Olaf Storm and his brother, besides three miners. In the first week of September all the party (except Mr. Olaf Storm) set out on mules for Barra dos Bugres, arriving there in 7 days, and awaited the Explorer, which took 30 days in going up from Corumbá.

In October the whole party proceeded to ascend the Rio dos Bugres, the steamer drawing 10 inches, but after 6 days it was impossible to go further for want of water. Six of the men took a canoe and after three days' exploration returned to Barra dos Bugres. After a halt of 10 days the expedition went up the Paraguay river to the river Sant Ana, and came down again. The geologist and botanist collected numerous specimens.

Three months were spent in this manner when an order came from Cuyabá, sent by Mr. Storm, for the expedition to return to Corumbá. The mules were then sold, and the Explorer turned her prow downstream.

The Paraguayan peons had already left, and everybody on board, including the scientific gentlemen, had to help in cutting wood, on the way down, for the steamer, arriving at Corumbá on the 8th day, on 22nd January.

Mr. Storm, meantime, had come down to Buenos Ayres in order to get money, but learnt from England that the syndicate had stopped all funds, having already spent £5,000. He then went up to Corumbá and ordered the stores to be sold, probably with the idea of paying the men; but they could not be sold. The Explorer with all the party, and commanded by Mr. Storm, arrived at Asuncion on Feb. 8th.

Dr. Evans, Mr. Spence Moore and two miners left for England last month. Mr. Storm is now trying to sell the steamer. The hardest part of the whole business is that the men are unpaid. Is it possible that the British Consul can do nothing for those of our countrymen who formed part of the expedition? Or is there no means for ascertaining how far the London Syndicate is liable? Or, may we ask what connection, if any, there is between the Syndicate and the two members of Parliament and other English travellers of distinction who took part in the Matto Grosso Gold Mining banquet at Asuncion? These are questions which we hope will be ventilated by the London papers and in the House of Commons.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO.

March 11th.

The yellow fever patients on Flores Island are progressing favourably. Black small-pox has broken out on the island.

Passengers released from quarantine state that the yellow fever in Rio this year is terrible, death being almost instantaneous. It rained last night, and the weather to-day is cold.

The Wordsworth arrived this morning. She has a very heavy passenger list, as she did not touch at Rio. A partner of the firm of Lamport and Holt is on board with his family. Also Mr. Edward Casey, who, it is said, intends publishing a report of his proceedings in London.

On Monday the Senate discuss the Bank Bill, which will be carried by a sweeping majority.

The report that Dr. Ellauri has been recalled is contradicted.

The news of the defalcations in one of the regiments is also denied.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

The news from San Luis is of the usual outrageous tenor. The government there has called out the National Guard in order to strengthen the police-force. This is simply outrageous. But this is not all. Houses are broken into and every able-bodied male hauled off to join the guard. In the meantime it appears that the present police-force already absorbs the lion's share of the Budget. It is not surprising therefore that the Government could be placed in the necessity of reducing the number of public schools from 200 to 20. The schoolmasters have not been paid their salaries for 2½ years. How the unfortunate men manage to live we cannot make out. There are no judges in the Courts, and there are no ministers in the government. If this is not anarchy, then anarchy does not exist. The National Government should send an interventor to put things straight in this unfortunate province of San Luis. To make matters worse, the province has been visited by a terrible drought. Cattle are dying for want of grass, and vegetation is drooping Truly Pandora's box has been emptied in San Luis. Only hope remains, and even that appears to be in an agonizing condition. Another detail. Considerable excitement has been caused by the attitude of the Legislature, which refuses to recognise the last elections as legal; thus there is a prospect of a repetition of the recent electioneering horrors.

We note by our Mendoza exchanges that the new Governor has already applied for a fortnight's holiday. The worthy functionary needs repose. In the meantime Mr. Villanueva will drive the State-coach. We see that the Provincial Bank—a Free and Easy one—has bad debts to the amount of $400,000. The weather at present is quite wintry in Mendoza.

The new Minister of Finance in San Juan is Mr. David Chaves. He is an engineer. The former Minister was a medical doctor, and retired, as our readers may remember, because he felt it his duty to practise his profession. "Muy bien." As we have often observed: if bootmakers would only stick to their lasts, doctors to their patients, and lawyers to their briefs, there would not have been so many blunders perpetrated.

Our Rosario exchanges say that Governor Cafferata is going to resign, with a view of getting a seat in the National Senate. Almost all, if not all, our Senators are ex-Governors. It seems to be a settled thing that a Governor should become a Senator before retiring into the obscurity of private life.

The new director of the Provincial Bank of Santa Fé, Mr. Terrosa, is determined to cut down the enormous salaries which the Bank is paying. This is the right course to pursue, and we hope to see this Free-and-Easy pay a dividend soon.

LATEST FROM CHILE.

Valparaiso Feb. 27th.

The difficulty which had arisen between the members of the Chilian-Argentine Boundary Commissions has been tided over for the present. The joint commission for the north will start for its destination next week. The chief of the Chilian commission will be Don Alejandro Bertrand, and of the Argentine Don Julio P. Diaz. The joint commission for Tierra del Fuego will probably be conveyed to its destination in the gunboat Magallanes. The chief of the Chilian commission will be Capt. Vicente Merino Jarpa, and of the Argentine Valentin Virasoni.

A Santiago paper says that a gang of a hundred thieves, robbers and murderers has assembled in the vicinity of Colina and is perpetrating all kinds of crimes. This is going back to colonial times with a vengeance, when highwaymen used to hide in the algarroba plantations near Colina, and kept their lookouts on Pan de Azucar Hill, to give timely notice of the approach of travellers.

The late fire in Viña del Mar disclosed the very disagreeable fact that although the town stands upon a subterranean lake, there is not water enough to be had in any part with which to extinguish a bonfire. At last Sunday's fire the hose was lowered into a private well, which was pumped dry in two or three minutes, and it took half an hour to fill again. At length the happy though occurred to Don Domingo Sarratea to sink a barrel into the bed of the creek at the extremity of Echevers-street, and by this simple but effective measure an inexhaustible supply of water was obtained. When the new subdelegate arrives his attention should be called to the necessity of taking advantage of Mr. Sarratea's idea for providing the town with water in case of fire.

The weeding process in the army will probably be followed up a little later, by calling upon all officers who have not graduated in the Military School to pass an examination. If this idea is carried into effect a good many of the officers will certainly be sent down.

The weeding out processes will leave vacancies which will probably be filled by former officers of the army.

A novelty in the shape of a trotting match will be introduced into the Santiago Autumn Meeting, which will be inaugurated on May 1st. It will be the first event on the card, and the distance will be three miles. The entrance will be 20 dollars, and the prize 200 dollars.

Cleary expects to be out here again with a company in July. It will be on altogether different lines to the last.

As always happens at this season of the year, cases of summer cholera, owing to excessive indulgence in unripe fruit, are not uncommon. The safest way of partaking of fruit, especially pears, is to cook it.

Messrs. North & Jewell have been authorised to act as agents of the following nitrate companies: The Colorado Nitrate Company, Limited; the Liverpool Nitrate Company, Limited; the San Donato Nitrate Company, Limited; and the Primitiva Nitrate Company, Limited.

A parcel of Urmenta wine was sent to Liverpool, whether on consignment, or for the purpose of improving it by a sea voyage, we are unable to say, but anyhow it was brought back to Valparaiso. Application was made for it to be admitted duty free, but it was refused by the customs authorities, and it had to pay duty accordingly.

We regret to say that the cruise of the squadron of evolution has terminated with an accident which has cost the life of a promising young naval officer. It appears that the torpedo boat Sarjento Adela became separated from the rest of the squadron, and becoming short of coal her captain ran into Alcones on the 18th in search of wood for fuel. Captain Dario Espinoza went on shore, but owing to the rough state of the sea he was unable to return on board on the 19th, and in attempting to do so on the 20th, his boat was capsized, and unfortunately he and a sailor were drowned. Several vessels were dispatched to the assistance of the boat, and she was finally found by the torpedo-cruiser Presidente Errázuriz, which vessel supplied her with coal, and she arrived here in safety yesterday afternoon.

Quite a large number of officers have accepted the offer of the Government and are retiring from the army on a year's pay, which is the equivalent of a ten years' service pension.

LADIES' LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Paris, Jan. 30th.

Russian embroidery is all the fashion, and French ladies devote a great deal of time to its production and sale; the proceeds being devoted to the relief of the famine stricken Muscovites. This embroidery mania, it is to be hoped, will last as long as there is distress to be removed; showy colors rather than harmonious combinations and commonplace line designs constitute the patterns. But charity covers a multitude of artistic sins. Perhaps it is also the same "eleemosynary" sympathy to aid the Russian fisheries that makes caviare sandwiches and strips of sterlet to figure at the new American lunches or the gossip five o'clock teas. At the latter, the hostess and volunteer lady-friends, hand round the tea, and et ceteras; in the case of the former, they commence about three o'clock by a little music of the newest character; then an interlude for chat and to thaw down the ice-edging of the cosmopolitan gathering. Next ensues an hegira to the dining room, where small tables for parties of four and six are ranged—an equal number of ladies and an equal number of gentlemen. The dames seated, the messieurs wait on them, and—herein lies the fun—go to the adjoining drawing room fitted up with a buffet, and choosing the desired refreshments bring them to their partners, terminating after bringing their own lunch by occupying their seat at the side of their lady, to join in the roll of conversation. Occasionally a dance is organized, where naturally "le Boston" finds its place.

The Prince of Wales being classed almost a Parisian, will explain why he received so large a share of French sympathy with his bereavement. His deceased son was next to unknown, and the forlorn 'fiancée' not at all, but this has not prevented feeling natures from pitying her wrecked life and fortune. If she were French, or better still Russian, her marriage with her intended brother-in-law would be arranged as a matter of course. Marriage with a deceased brother's 'fiancée' is not less or more incongruous than wedding a deceased wife's sister. Besides, in France, what Oscar Wilde would call asthetic love, only exists in novels and plays. The Prince's demise has given an important fillip to the mourning industries of France; it would seem, according to French eyes, that black was the only wear in England. The demand for mourning jewellery has been very extensive; black pearls fetch fancy prices.

The influenza causes anxiety, exacts great prudence, but produces no panic fear. There is no epidemic influenza in France, equal to the scourge of two years ago, and were it not that minds are on the stretch and people nervously watchful, the reported fatal cases of influenza occurring would not be specially noted. They are the aged, the mentally fatigued, or the corporeally exhausted that, as a rule, succumbed, and, fact curious to be noted, the victims mostly belong to the male sex. Other curious circumstance, the slender importance attached to direct medication; each physician appears to have his pet panacea, while the patients' family rely on light and refreshing diet, as fruit and chicken with port wine or brandy punch. Above all, keep the patient comfortably warm, and let the unattacked when feeling a chill, at once take to bed, and flush cares out of the mind.

M. de Thiac, who has just died at the age of 76, had a cult for Marie Antoinette so developed that he expended his vast fortune in the purchase of every souvenir relative to the unfortunate queen and her family. His mansion was a veritable museum-chapel of curios; two rooms were fitted up on the lines of her boudoirs at Versailles; another room, it is said, reproduced her cell in the Temple prison. He allowed very few persons to visit his collections. It was in reading the history of the French Revolution and the Memoirs of her time that M. de Thiac became infatuated with admiration for Marie Antoinette. He must have had a robust faith if his attachment remained unshaken by Comte Mercy d'Argenson's "Correspondence," and which virtually destroys the last shred of poetry about her life. M. de Thirac was besieged by dealers in antiquities from every corner of Europe; being an expert in curios he escaped being imposed upon. His collections constituted his friends and his society. Following the new funeral fashion he left injunctions to be buried "as a pauper," and in order not to inconvenience his friends, begged them not to assist at his interment.

Are men superior to women as professional nurses? The question has been raised, owing to the scarcity of women candidates, and of the special qualifications of the soldier attendants in the hospitals, who serve in the latter instead of the active army, and seek employment in civil life after being discharged. They are the members of the Moravian and Baptist creeds, who are told off for the military hospitals, as they prefer imprisonment to shouldering a gun to kill a man and a brother. The doctors in Paris are divided on the nurse question, respecting civilian hospitals; some prefer the nuns, who are not now eligible, having being superseded by lay sisters; others prefer the ex-military. The nursing nuns, banished from the hospitals, are on the other hand rapidly superseding the lay nurses for private patients.

Frenchmen are not celebrated as emigrants; but Frenchwomen are less so, as they never emigrate. Much of this is naturally the consequence of the former fact; France has no colonies peopled by her sons, who want wives, and the few who wed invariably remain faithful "to the girl they left behind" them. Again young Frenchwomen never dream of emigrating on the chance of being "engaged," either as servants or as wives. They dread leaving the mother country; they commence to save from an early age, and in time accumulate sufficient to set up a huxter's shop; furnish the house for a husband who may fancy to propose for them, or they continue putting by till they fall into the sear leaf and then purchase the right of shelter till their death in one of those admirable board and lodging asylums, under official management, in which France abounds. I have been told that a philanthropic movement is on foot to send out a batch of young women from an orphanage to Tunisia, where many retired soldiers live happily under their own vines and fig trees, but singly. There is no intermarriage between Arabs and Europeans.

FOREIGN WOOLS IN 1891.

The valuable annual report on wool published by Messrs Helmuth Schwartze and Company, London, shows that the production of wool by the chief producing countries (United States excluded) was individually greater last year than in the preceding year, and collectively the greatest on record. The year on which comparisons are made is from November to November, and the figures include only wool exported from countries of growth. As none of these has an appreciable home consumption, the returns so compiled are accurate enough for all practical purposes. The total exports for this period were as follows:

	1891 Bales	1890 Bales
Australia	1,369,874	1,117,582
New Zealand	312,862	292,846
Cape of Good Hope	321,704	288,106
River Plate	380,000	317,000

The River Plate figures for last year have been exceeded once, in 1890, when 421,000 bales were exported. Mr North, of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, estimates our clip at 309,457,000 pounds in 1891, against 303,402,000 in 1890; but the Agricultural Bureau, on the other hand, returns it at 285,000,000 pounds against 276,000,000 pounds in 1890.

The year 1891 closed with prices of wool in London at a very low level, there being a decline compared with December, 1890, of 10 to 12 per cent in Australian merinos, 5 per cent in cross-breds, 7 to 10 per cent in Cape and 14 per cent in River Plate wools. The average price per bale of Australian wools over the year was £134, below which the average has never fallen, although it was as low in 1886 and 1888. In 1890 the average was £142. With these figures before us it can easily be understood that the year was an unsatisfactory one in the raw wool trade.

As Messrs Helmuth Schwartze and Company point out, a heavy increase in supplies was foreseen, but it was hoped that the general absence of all stocks, both of wool and woolen goods, might prove an efficient counterpoise to this increase. In taking this view, however, it must have been overlooked that the very cause which cleaned up both markets in 1890 would tell most heavily against them in 1891. The McKinley tariff in action checked them severely. In 1890 the total value of exports of woolen and worsted yarns and manufactures to the United States reached £4,808,000; in 1891 it fell to £2,985,000, a decrease of £1,823,000, or 38 per cent. Other markets failed to make good any part of this decrease, there being in fact a still greater falling off in the aggregate exports than shown by those to the United States alone. The increased supplies of raw material were thus thrown on a market with a restricted field for exports of manufactured goods.

Notwithstanding this, low prices have proved an inducement to increased consumption of wool both in Great Britain and on the Continent, the deliveries during the year being, of extra European wools, 2,856,000 bales, against 2,401,000 bales in 1890, and stocks at the end of the year 191,000 bales, against 217,000 bales in 1890. While this increased absorption by machinery may be in some degree represented by larger stocks of tops and yarns than a year ago, the prospects are still considered better than they were at the opening of 1891. There ought to be some improvemont of business under the stimulating influence of low prices; such an immense increase of supplies as in 1891 is not likely to be recorded, and the year starts, as 1891 did not, with a distinctly low level of prices.

THE POSITION OF GERMANY.

Chancellor Caprivi has exhibited a marked aversion to press writers and those officers who have joined their numbers. The nation however follows with no less interest the observations of specialists on that subject which interests the people more than any other, namely the question whether war really stands before us, and if so what will be the probable result of it. General Leszczynski may be considered as one of the most celebrated of our modern commanders. His words will not lose in importance because he has resigned the command of the ninth army corps to Graf Waldersee. His arguments, not only show that Germany has nothing to be afraid of in the future, but also that an officer of the rank and importance of Leszczynski, is by no means an opposer of the two years' system of service.

General Leszczynski sees the strength of German superiority in the equal efficiency and so activity of the army on a peace footing, also in the army corps and lastly in the service, which the citizens have at one time or another passed through. With regard to the first point he noticed that France and Russia have only lately tried yearly manoeuvres, whilst in Germany we have made use of them for the last fifty years. The German officer corps is the best in the world and has never been better than it is at the present day. The citizen soldiers are imbued with a high national feeling, accompanied by a true spirit of honour.

The efficient citizen-soldiers give to the army a great number of active officers and under-officers, elements which are rare in France, and scarcely represented at all in Russia. These men, who are competent in all military matters, represent a new supply of officers, and by this means they make the army more suitable for fighting purposes.

The General then took Russia specially under his consideration. At the present moment we are superior to the Russian in the matter of weapons, and in addition the present moment is the most unfavourable for that country in as far as the declaration of war is really desired by those dwelling on the banks of the Neva, the men at the head of affairs are active officers and they must review the matter as it really exists. Unless compelled to do so they will not engage in war whilst the army is being supplied with a new weapon, so that this will prevent offensive action on the part of Russia until 1894, in spite of French support. An army of one to two million men can not be fed in any enemy's, country, even in fertile France we were for the most part nourished from home in 1870/71. How then could Russia possibly do this during the present famine. After the first massing of the troops eight or fourteen days would see the whole affair shattered. The disposition in St. Petersburg is certainly hostile, but that they wish for war now in 1892, that we can scarcely credit. Many of those placed in high positions incline to the idea of war, because, as they say, the war whether successful or unsuccessful will bring more freedom with it. This may be all very true, but previously and to all appearance for the future the Czar has and will hold the reins of authority very firmly in his own hands, and all attempts to undermine his power have been so far unavailling.

The moving forward of the troops to the West does not seem to in any way disturb the author. This is undertaken so that it may be possible to be prepared on a short notice. The Russians are quite right, but it should be remembered that the advantages depend on whether the mobilisation is carried out perfectly quietly and whether the whole affair is completed in order. But if these two "ifs" do not really come to pass, then the whole matter is very suspicious. In the talk of the Russian Hotspurs about the Russian cavalry, which they intend to throw over the boundary, they forget modern appliances such as railways and telegraph communication. There would of course be no difficulty in ravaging a couple of border villages; but should the riding party endeavour to penetrate into the country, then destruction would be inevitable.

With regard to France General Leszczynski said:

"France with regard to the weapon in use stands upon an equality with us, the organization is, however, better in our army. Amongst the French officers of higher rank serious attention is being devoted to the question as to whether large masses of men may not be somewhat difficult to manage; at any rate it is certain that the slightest error will bring with it the most disastrous consequences. There are excellent soldiers in the French army both amongst the officers and men, but the old stamp of French warrior becomes more rare from year to year, at any rate it is only sparsely represented in the regiments of the present day. A new spirit has taken possession of the majority, but no spirit which need give us any cause for astonishment. The conditions of tactics are about the same, but on this point too great importance should not be laid, since good leaders and good discipline are more likely to decide the question.

The General then proceeds to deal with those powers which are bound up with Germany in a community of interest and writes: "With regard to our allies, we must all agree that in Austria, much has been altered for the better, much has been learnt. The tactics are very good, the discipline good. No one has any doubt but that this solid structure backed up by pluck, will be able to withstand the shock of an attack on the part of Russia. Intelligence is a much more universal quality in the Austrian than in the Russian army, the weapons are good, which is also a favourable circumstance. Roumania is active and brings this advantage with it, that it will always engage the attention of two Russian corps. Italy always draws a certain amount of attention to itself and away from us, and that is the chief thing. Whether Italy will be on the offensive, whether the army will form a great part of the alliance, i.e., whether it will be able to operate with from 4 to 5 corps, depends on numberless other conditions.

A very important question in the present situation is whether England remains neutral. If she allies herself with us then the matter wears a very different face. Russia will then be obliged to leave two corps in Finland, and Riga must be strongly defended. We would then require no troops for the protection of Schleswig, and have the sea open to supply us with provisions. If England holds guard in the Mediterranean along with Austria and Italy, then three corps would be liberated in the latter place. This sounds very pretty, but Germany must not reckon upon this alliance, because although England hates Russia, yet she fears France. We may therefore say that the Triple and the Double Alliance balance each other, but that the choice of England will weigh down the scales on one side or the other. This country always plays for that which will most benefit itself, it will therefore not be caught, especially if the Liberal Ministry is at the helm. We must therefore be ready without England, and we can be too; I trust too much to the strength of purpose amongst the German people, to have any doubt of it.

THE CARMELITE FATHERS AT SAN ANTONIO.

The Mission given by the Very Rev. Fathers Moore and MacDonnell, O.C.C., at the church of San Antonio de Areco was opened on Sunday last with an eloquent discourse by the Rev. Father Moore, pointing out the advantages that would accrue to the congregation from attending the Mission. The weather has been exceptionally fine, and the attendance, each day larger than anticipated. The people of the district have responded to the call by coming in numbers and have been supplemented by large contingents from distant Parishes. It must be gratifying to the zealous and beloved pastor Father Mulleady to see so much good produced by the labors of the Carmelite Fathers. The Mission will terminate on Sunday with the solemn function of the renewal of baptismal vows and the Papal Benediction.

GOOD PENS.

Mr. Editor,

If your correspondent is not above paying a trifle over the prices charged here for the "Cheap and Nasty" pens provided by our stationers, let him get a small supply of "Ormeston and Glass's Ball pointed" pens, which, in my way of thinking, are the best ever yet presented to the public, especially to that portion accustomed to guill pens.

So far none of our stationers keep them, owing, I presume, to the higher cost, and one is therefore under the necessity of ordering them out.

I send for you and your correspondent a few of these "Ball pointed" pens, a trial of which will convince you of the value of my recommendation.

Yours,
"Ball Pointed."

RAILWAY ITEMS.

Advices from Mendoza state that a bill has been presented to the Legislature for petitioning the National Government to order the construction of the railway to 25 de Mayo. This measure is meant to give work to the hundreds of people ruined by the locusts this year.

Telegrams from Santa Fé report the suspension of the train-service to Colastine.

A Sunchales train went off the track on Wednesday between Serodino and Aldao. Luckily no one was hurt.

The Board of Public Works have issued a report on the petition recently filed by the Argentine North-Western to be allowed to suspend the works until Government be able to pay the guarantee in cash. The Board state that the Government cannot grant this petition, but that a three years' extension of time may be granted. Furthermore, the length of the line may be reduced to 350 kilometres. In regard to Rioja interests as affected by such an arrangement, the Board propose that Rioja be connected with the Dean Funes and Chilecito Line by means of a branch 50 miles in length.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Sluggish day yesterday. Nothing new in any quarter, and nothing nice except the ladies and the weather, both of which were charming. Politics were as dull as ditchwater. The news from Rio was shocking. Yellow fever there has now assumed terrible proportions, and those seized with it die in an hour or two. Yet passenger steamers to the Plate from Europe continue to call at Rio, for filthy lucre's sake. It is wonderful that this city has so far escaped the importation of the plague.

The pens kindly sent to us by "Ball-Pointed" are a poem. We hope he will consider himself embraced by us, "con las mas efusivas gracias." Our writing has wonderfully improved within the last 24 hours.

We are informed by the Hon. Sec. of the British Hospital that the Rev. Father Fidelis, head of the Passionist Fathers in this city, has been elected ex-officio member of the Committee; and we are sure that this will be agreeable intelligence to the English-speaking Roman Catholic community of Buenos Ayres.

We hear of a boom in house and hut rent in that ambitious place Bahia Blanca. The meanest house in the place lets for 100 a month.

Peuser again. "Dos Novelas Sociologicas", by Ernest Quesada. "Quilito" and "La Bolsa" are very entertaining reading.

If our lady friends want that thing so dear to the female heart, a "bargain", they should read the big advertizement from the well known Tienda Progreso, where there is a Clearance Sale going on at very low prices.

Sud-America says there is a big judicial scandal brewing, and Judge Diaz is busy looking into it.

Something should be done, and done quickly, with the city bakers; say a little Lynching. Flour has fallen 35 per cent, yet the doughty "panaderos" have not reduced the price of their bread one cent.

The British Parliament has met at eleven places besides Westminster.

One pound weight of cork will support in the water a man weighing 140 pounds.

Italy has 4,800,000 lemon trees, which produce 1,260,000,000 lemons per annum.

The Rivadavia, Captain Juan Vucassovich, is doing a big passenger business. On Thursday the number was 200; of these 65 were first class; among them was Dr. Terra of Montevideo and Sr. Martinez, the big wine importer.

The Flores people should be glad to hear that they have at last a resident English doctor amongst them. Dr. E. Graham Pilgrim, to whoss high testimonials we recently had occasion to refer, has established his "domicilio" at 7355 Rivadavia, Flores (over Botica Etcheberry). Consultations 12½-1½ p.m. Union Teleph. 6034. He continues as before his consultations in the centre at 606 Florida. Consultations 3 to 4 p.m. Union Teleph. 405. We wish the doctor all success.

It is rather funny to read in the monthly Bulletin of the Argentine Information Office in the United States that the inhabitants of Tierra del Fuego are "cannibals"! What will Bishop Stirling and the Rev. Mr. Brydges, and Mr. Julius Popper, and many other people say to this?

In Ireland, recently, a quarrel had taken place at a fair, and a culprit was being sentenced for manslaughter. The doctor, however, had given evidence to show that the victim's skull was abnormally thin. The prisoner, on being asked if he had anything to say for himself, replied:—"No, yer honor; but I would ask, was that a skull for a man to go to a fair wid?"

Where are the Health Inspectors of Balvanera parish? Daily bread men who come into town in the Calle Piedad Tramway remark with surprise that a thick, brown fluid is constantly flowing into the street from Godet's chocolate factory. There may be nothing noxious in chocolate water, but the sight is "chocante" to the public.

We have to thank the agents of the Central and South American Telegraph Company for a copy of its interesting Cable Map, showing the various lines over which its messages run. This company is connected exclusively with the direct quadruplex system of the Western Union Co. and with England, France and Germany by ten duplex cables. Brazil seems to be wretchedly supplied with telegraphs compared with this go-ahead-regardless-of-expense country.

Dr. Pizarro, Governor elect of Cordoba, says that the unfortunate province is so hard up that he will have to borrow $50 wherewith to buy the pens, ink and paper that will be required for his installation in office. Pleasant news this for those of our London friends who hold Cordoba Bonds.

The Rio News tells the following appalling story of the horrors of the yellow fever epidemic in Santos:—"The stories about hospital treatment in Santos are becoming terrible. A friend tells us that a man named Beemer sent a boy to the Misericord

Dear Sirs—
"I have tried HAYWARD'S "PASTE" DIP on my Sheep, and have pleasure in bearing testimony to ITS EFFICACY AS A DIP. I need have no hesitation in recommending it generally as a Cure for Scab, without discolouring or damaging the Wool. The "PASTE" is in my opinion preferable to the Powder, and will probably have a larger sale than the latter."
Yours very truly
(Signed)
JOHN KELLIE.
It has been proved by many important Estancieros that HAYWARD'S PASTE is more convenient to use than any other Dip, being already mixed and dissolving in any kind of water. It makes a smooth soapy bath which adheres well to the Fleece, and leaves the wool clean and soft.

ON 'CHANGE.

Friday, March 11.

The gold market opened very weak this morning, but it soon leaked out in the liquidation parlor that gold was short and a bullish rally ensued. The speculation is not much impressed by the Cabinet crisis, and little importance is attached to the resignation of Dr. Lopez. This is easily explained by the fact that the present Government must surrender the reins of power on the 12th of October next, and little or nothing of a radical nature in finances can be attempted until then. In fact, the spell between this and October is a kind of financial interregnum, and it is idle to think that either Dr. V. de la Plaza or Dr. Romero will accept a portfolio under such circumstances. According to our well-informed colleague La Nacion, Dr. V. Lopez has resigned in view of the approaching Congress session; the venerable historian, but bungling financier, states that owing to his deafness he cannot take part in parliamentary debates, and therefore resigns his post in the Cabinet. The market, meantime, maintains that the ukase expelling four members of the National Bank Board has been the direct cause of the Cabinet crisis; the market believes that the ukase in question was drawn up by the Finance Minister, with the approval of the President, but without consulting the views of other members of the Cabinet. At all events, it is a strange coincidence that Minister Lopez should resign immediately after the National Bank decree, and we believe that the market is not far wrong in its estimate of the causes of the crisis in the Government. Another feature of the resignation would imply that the decree affecting the Board of the National Bank will be repealed; if this be the result of Minister Lopez's resignation, so much the better, as the whole market is in favor of the National Bank directors. In this regard, it is significant that the National Government has not thought fit to replace the directors expelled by the late decree; there can be no doubt that the Cabinet joins issue in the matter with the Finance Minister.

Fifteen thousand ounces changed hands at the first ring; the price opened at 55.80$, rose to 56.20, and closed at 56, say 244 % premium. About two thousand sovereigns were sold; the price opened at 17.35$ and closed at 17.45, say 244 % premium. Gold looked plentiful at the beginning of the ring, but ran short as the day grew; this is not a favorable symptom for the bears at to-morrow's weekly liquidation, but it is well to bear in mind that the market, with a few exceptions, favors a fall in gold; this makes the firmness in gold all the more anomalous.

Stocks and shares were dull. Spanish Bank shares rose to 81, National Cedulas E to 73 and National C to 71. Patriotic Bonds were weak at 60¼. La Plata Cedulas were steady all round at 29.30.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares at the first ring to-day:—

Galveston telegrams announcing that the French naval budget for the year is calculated at 700,000,000 francs must be an egregious mistake. The following are the figures for late years:—

Naval Budget

	Fcs.
1888.....	183,000,000
1889.....	205,000,000
1890.....	203,000,000

The telegraph agency intended, no doubt, conveying the aggregate of the Navy and War budgets, which for the last three years have ranged from 700 to 750 million francs. The budget for War and Marine in 1890 amounted to 759½ million francs: thus, the present budget would show a reductions of nearly 60 million francs. The naval budget of Great Britain amounted in 1890 to £13,685,000 and that of the army to £17,336,000, say an aggregate of 31 millions sterling.

The Lamport and Holt steamer Wordsworth, Chevalier Hairby, arrived this morning at Montevideo. Amongst her passengers are expected Mr. E. Casey, J. Ollivier, A. Pruden, A. Shanks and Oswell, all well known in these latitudes.

Embezzlements to the amount of $100,000 in Villa Constitucion, $200,000 in Rosario, $45,000 in Coronda, and minor amounts in other parts have been discovered in the respective Custom-houses in Santa Fé.

A colleague states that the Magdalena saladeros will slaughter this season about three hundred thousand head of cattle.

Advices from Bahia Blanca state that the branch of the Banco de la Nacion Argentina there was opened on Wednesday; the bank is situated in Calle Chiclana, between Calles Alsina and Belgrano. The brewery at Pigue is doing a roaring business and cannot supply the demand in the far south; the beer of Messrs. Renard is pronounced excellent; the Pigueños are great beer drinkers, although they are nearly all French; they swallowed last year 1,400 dozens of beer, not bad for such a small settlement. In Bahia Blanca house rents have risen suddenly; the smallest house in the place fetches 50$ per month; middling houses of three or four rooms fetch 100$ per month. Meantime, in La Plata many proprietors are willing to let fine residences on payment of the Contribucion and Municipal taxes. Bahia Blanca is evidently ahead of La Plata. Another instance of Bahia Blanca progress the theatrical company pay 150$ per night for a house; meantime, the same company paid for a larger house in Dolores 158 % per night only!

Messrs. Tomkinson and Dungey have bought another consignment of wheat in Caramañan, 20,000 sacks of barletta quality; price supposed to be 12$ per 100 kilos.

The price of home-tobacco is tumbling fast, and at the rate it is going will soon be at 3 dollars. The supply from Tucuman appears to be considerable. Talking of tobacco, we heard yesterday that the duties demanded by the Custom House on a consignment of "palo" tobacco valued at $150 gold amount to the fabulous figure of $5000 gold!

The cost of the works in the Martin Garcia Channel amount this month to $21,000. We note that the chairman of the Riachuelo Works has applied to this Government for this sum. The cost of the Riachuel

Exchange ruled weak to-day. There is a suspicion that some big taker entered the field and made a clean sweep of bills. The closing rates of the day were:—

5.07 to 5.07½ fcs on Paris.
5.08 to 5.08¼ on France payable in Paris.
5.09 to 5.10 fcs on Antwerp.
48 1d. on London.

Discounts were somewhat easier to-day at 11 % for bills at short dates. The Banco de la Nacion Argentina discounted yesterday $300,000.

For the benefit of those whom it may concern, whether holders of Patriotic Bonds or shareholders of the National Bank, we translate the following article of the respective law which regulates the exchange of shares for bonds and fixes a special denomination on the bonds thus changed:—

The President of the Republic decrees:—

"Art. 1—The Junta of Credito Publico shall hand to those shareholders of the National Bank who have ceded their shares to the Nation, bonds of the Empresito Interno, bearing 6% interest and 1% sinking funds, specially stamped, viz—Impresito de 1892, ley num. 2841—at the rate of 50% of the nominal value of said shares, in accordance with Art. 35 of said law no. 2841. These bonds shall bear the coupon of 1st April 1892."

People who operate in Patriotic Bonds must bear the above in mind as the exchange of shares of the National Bank evidently transforms the Patriotic Stock or Empresito Interno with another bond, with special stamp and different name; the changed stock evidently loses its original character of Empresito Interno with all the special guarantees attached.

A new joint-stock bank, with a capital of $600,000$, has been started in Olavarria. Up to the present 150,000$ of the capital have been subscribed by the neighbours of the district. The example set by Mercedes will be followed by all the important camps towns, for the majority are without banks to-day, and the "chacareros" have to deposit their money with "almaceneros" or stow it away in their houses which is a serious risk in times out of joint.

Gold remained very steady at the 2nd ring; fifteen thousand ounces were sold for to-morrow; the price opened at 56.10$, rose to 56.30, and closed at 56.10, say 2441% premium. A thousand sovereigns were sold at 17.45$, say 2461% premium. La Plata Cedulas were very firm this afternoon.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares to-day at the second ring:—

The Minister of Finance has fixed the rate of gold at 340 for payment of Customs dues.

The London Economist has the following remarks on the gratuitous advice of bankers and the proposed Uruguayan conversion:—

"The Bank of England and some other bankers have this week thought right to issue a circular to those who are on their books as holders of Uruguayan bonds, asking if they wish to convert, and volunteering the statement that 'so far as can be judged no better arrangement seems likely to be obtained.' We are not aware that it is the practice of bankers to offer their customers unasked for advice of this kind as to how they ought to deal with their securities, and it would be interesting to know why they have done so in this case. It may be the fact that the carrying through of the Uruguayan conversion would facilitate the liquidation of the Barings' estate, and it is the fact that the bankers as guarantors are interested in that liquidation. That their own interests are involved, however, may be a very sufficient reason why they should not advise in regard to the conversion, but we fail to see how it can in any way justify them in forcing their advice upon people who did not ask for it. And if, after all, their advice should be wrong, as it undoubtedly was when they advised their clients not to convert their Consols under Mr. Childers' scheme, will not those whom they have misled have good cause to complain? The manner in which these conversion proceedings have been conducted from first to last does not reflect credit upon those who have had their management, and we greatly regret to see bankers going out of their way to further them."

We take the following from Messrs. Williams and Co.'s Buenos Aires shipping report under date Buenos Aires March 1st, 1892:—

Steamers—The business of the past month has been extremely unsatisfactory, both in wool and grain shipments. The rate for wool to the Continental ports has fluctuated between 16 fcs. and 20 fcs. per cubic metre.

The demand for grain tonnage has been very slack and great difficulty experienced in placing prompt boats. During the last few days a few charters have been effected for April, May and June shipments at about 26s. from San Lorenzo wheat and maize to U.K. or Continent, but the rate to day is weak and tending downwards, as merchants are pressed to make firm offers 25s. 6d. and 26s. The cause of this depression can now only be accounted for by the weakness of the home markets, and until their tone improves, we cannot expect to see any great movement here. The amount of produce remaining in the country for exportation, both of wool and wheat, and of maize in April or May, is very considerable, and as far as we can see of the amount of tonnage to arrive, a rise in freights is inevitable if the home markets were to show any firmness.

Sailers—The list of charters effected at foot shows that a slight improvement has taken place and the rate closes at 23 fcs. wheat from the Boca and 24s. from Rosario to Channel for orders for handy sized vessels.

The demand closes weak. There is a great scarcity of suitable tonnage for salted hides, the rate to day being 37s. 6d. from Paysandu and 32s. 6d. from Magdalena, Ensenada or Tuyu. Several steamers have been taken up to load wheat and bay at Rosario for Rio Janeiro, which has eased the demand for sailers, but rates are still $4 per 40 cft. Owing to the prevalence of yellow fever at Santos the rate offered for vessels to load Hay at Rosario has increased to $6 per 40 cubic feet. There is little or no demand for vessels to load for the United States.

Charters effected in Buenos Aires during the month of February 1892:—

hesitation that I was induced on the recommendation of friends to start in business in Buenos Ayres on my own account; the risk of investing my savings being very formidable to me.

After due consideration, however, I resolved, on making the experiments determined, that no pains should be spared by me in turning out good work.

Success has crowned my efforts, and the Scandinavian Photographer whose offices are in

TEA LA MAGNOLIA

INJURIOUS TEA DRINKING.

In the "Daily Post" of September 2 appears a leading article—evidently from an analytical expert—showing that after 15 minutes "draw," Indian Tea yields 17·73 of tannin, while from China comes only 7·93. What this means few know, but those troubled with indigestion may realise in part by use of True China Tea for one week.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.
The original and only genuine

Advice to Invalids.—If you wish to obtain quiet refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by D. J. Collis Brown, (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, etc.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5, 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russel Street, Bloomsbury, London. Lear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medecine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan; but all over the East. As a remedy for general utility, we must question wether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are so sorry to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent, we could multiply instances "ad infinitum" of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Sapasms, Crampas, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative that have occurred under our personal observation duty many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm Conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate Breach of Faith on the part of the Chemist to prescribe and Patient alike. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes and Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain. His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

CAUTION,—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne, was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodine; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See the "Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1 1/2d., 2s. 9d., 4. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelmning medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

CAUTION.—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.

Sole Manufacturer—J. T. DAVENPORT, 33 Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London

EXTRACT OF TOBACCO.

According to numerous testimonials which we hold the extract of pure tobacco is the only infallible remedy to radically cure the scab in sheep and naturally the cheapest. As there are several trade marks like ours care must be taken to see that the extract bears the key marks, without which it is not genuine.

Directions for use

One part of extract mixed with 100 to 150 parts of hot or cold water for bath, and with 80 to 100 parts for hand curing.

CANNON'S Sheep Dip

which obtained the only Prize medal at the Exhibition in Edinburgh 1890, and the eulogiums of all the Agricultural Press at the Royal Agricultural Show at Doncaster in 1891, where were exhibited Skins dressed with Cannon's Dip and those undressed showing a difference in value of over 25/ per dozen in favor of Cannon's Fluid. These Skins will be exhibited at the Feria of the Sociedad Rural at Dolores and Chascomus.

This Dip has the following advantages:—It never stains the wool, but augments the growth and ensures the highest value in the market. It is easy to use, being readily soluble in cold water, and hand curing is rarely required after.

EXTRACT OF TOBACCO.

According to numerous testimonials which we hold the extract of pure tobacco is the only infallible remedy to radically cure the scab in sheep and naturally the cheapest. As there are several trade marks like ours care must be taken to see that the extract bears the key marks, without which it is not genuine.

Directions for use

One part of extract mixed with 100 to 150 parts of hot or cold water for bath, and with 80 to 100 parts for hand curing.

HORSFORDS PHOSPHATIC BAKING POWDER

Ordinary Baking Powders are made either of Cream Tartar or Alum, Cream Tartar powders leave in the bread Rochelle Salts, a continuous use of which is not desirable. Alum powders are condemned by physicians as unhealthful. Neither of these powders add anything of nutritive value to the bread, and both produce, biscuit, cake, etc., that are dry and tasteless when cold. Professor Horsford's Phosphatic Baking Powder leaves in the Bread etc., the life sustaining Phosphates of which the flour is deprived in the process of bolting, and which are necessary to maintain health.
